

The FCC has a responsibility to insure that the public airwaves are used to serve the public interest. A recent decision by Sinclair Broadcasting represents a direct challenge to this responsibility and must be confronted. Sinclair is attempting to force its stations to air a biased and highly partisan political documentary just days before the general election. This is a blatant attempt by a media owner to manipulate public opinion on a massive scale without providing adequate time for the airing of opposing views. I urge the FCC to prohibit the airing of this kind of manipulative documentary at a point so close to the election.

Thank you.
